

'The Books that Bring Us Together' Seminar Series

October - November 2021

PROGRAMME - Virtual via Zoom

Please note: all seminars run from 9am - 10.30am UK time; 6.30pm in October Australia (Adelaide time zone ACDT) time; 7.30pm in November in Australia (Adelaide time zone ACDT)

Friday 15 October 2021 - Seminar One: writing gender and family life

- Hannah Upton, The Family Bible and The Early Modern Woman Reader
- Sarah O'Brien, Memoir as a site of family work: a case study of Irish immigrant memoirs written in the United States, 1900-1970'
- Rebekah Sloanemather, Works of many hands: Nurses autograph books and military hospital culture in and after WW1'

Thursday 21 October 2021 - Seminar Two: family archives: emotional and physical displacement

- Katie Crowther, Preservation through separation: the eighteenth-century paper traces of Mary and Charlotte Winn
- John Lo Breglio, Inheriting someone else's family
- Alison Pedley, Two suitcases: a personal reflection on a family archive
- Lucie Bea Dutton, I keep meaning to do something with the diary

Thursday 28 October 2021 - Seminar Three: family cookbooks and recipes: emotions and identities

- Catherine Wwendth, Cooking Up Kindness
- Alison Baxter, Recipes that hide a broken heart
- Val Hewson, Recipe Books: an easily overlooked heritage
- Lucinda Matthews-Jones, Telling Stories through my Granny's Cookery books

Thursday 4 November 2021 - Seminar Four: familial emotions across time: bibles, religious books and quilts

- Hannah Barker, Religious books and family life in northern English towns during the early industrial revolution
- Cath Feely, What can I do today unto these my daughters?' Reading my Grandmother's bible
- Deborah McGuire, Maintaining 'the importance of aunts': textiles, emotions and the matrilineal family

Monday 8 November 2021 - Seminar Five: scrapbooks, snapshots and albums: changing emotional meanings

- Lucy Brownson, As private as a letter': The Handbook of Chatsworth, intergenerational family writing, and the British country house as 'family home
- Cherish Watton, Scrapbooking in the family: histories of Royal Family scrapbooking during the twentieth century
- Linda Maynard, My efforts to get there' – a memento of a fragmented family
- Louise Taylor, Fragments of a Man Imagined